Ontario Escorts Three Destroyers Headed for Pearl Harbor

Cmdr. R. P. Welland, skipper of the destroyer Athabaskan, spent his last few minutes ashore with his wife and two children. Michael, 6 (right) carried his father's binoculars up to the last. Three-year-old Tony stayed close to daddy and wondered what it was all about.

Six-year-old Harry Telvy, 502 Signal Hill, Esquimalt, was all set to go aboard the destroyer Sioux with his father, Petty Officer Harry Telvy, but a rating guarding the gangplank turned thumbs down. Young Telvy was quickly whisked back to his mother. (See story on Page 11.)

Red Armor Cracks South Korea Line

American Advance Element Cut Off; Most Believed Safe

TOKIO, July 6 (Thursday) (CP).—North Korean armour Wednesday broke through South Korean defences south of Suwon as the Far East war developments continued to go against the defenders.

An American advance element was cut off but there were indications most of its men were able to pull back to new lines.

Tom Lambert, Associated Press correspondent, reported from Taejon that 40 Russian-made North Korean tanks overrun the United States outpost. Lambert quoted reliable sources that the Americans had knocked out seven tanks but the invaders were continuing the drive southward. North Korean infantry followed the Red tanks.

Roy MacArthur, Reuters correspondent in South Korea, said the American troops, fighting in heavy rain and without air support, fell back when their ammunition was exhausted. He said the battle took place outside Osan, 15 miles southeast of fallen Suwon.

American casualties were estimated at from 15 to 20 per cent of the force engaged.

THREATENED

Lambert reported that the positions to which the Americans withdrew now are believed threatened.

Korean Communist forces are continuing their "by-passing, probing and enveloping movement" in the Suwon-Osan area, said a communiqué from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters, issued at 1 p.m. Tokyo time (8 p.m. E.D.T. Wednesday). The situation was described as "extremely fluid."

It said "a small new beachhead was reported on the east coast south of Samchok. This however has not been verified."

Allied naval forces have been shelling this area consistently.

In Taejon, South Korean sources said a Communist attack at Chungju, about 25 miles southward of Wonju, was repulsed. Wonju is 45 miles east of Suwon.

Defence Minister Shin Sung Mo of South Korea said "the situation looks better by the hour."

Advance American headquarters in South Korea said the situation was "a little better Thursday morning than it was Wednesday night (south of Suwon) because American reinforcements are being rushed forward."

South Korean troops reportedly offered only slight resistance to the Red south of Suwon but did better near Wonju.

In Taejon, Defence Minister Sinn, who is also acting Premier, said early Thursday that the North Korean tank columns south of Suwon had been halted.

He said South Korean troops were consolidating their positions south of Suwon, 23 miles south of Seoul.

The formal announcement of the fall of Incheon, port of Seoul, finally was made at advance American headquarters.

A second Bulgarian division was deployed along the Macedonian border of Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Quantities of Soviet war material are being unloaded daily at the Bulgarian Black Sea ports of Varna and Burgas. Other supplies are being shipped on the Danube through Romania.

Several groups of Russian officers in civilian clothing have been observed crossing the border at Vidin from Romania, en route to Kyustendil, Haskovo and Petrich, all on the Macedonian frontier.

These reports said: A Russian general named Novikov has been put in command of the second Bulgarian Army with headquarters at Plovdiv, in the south-western part of the country.

Several infantry regiments and an anti-tank regiment moved from the Romanian border to Kyustendil, on Yugoslavia's Macedonia frontier.

A Bulgarian division commanded by a Russian was moved from Vratsa, 21 miles from Yugoslavia, northwest to Kula, only about five miles from the frontier and close to Romania.

BULLETIN

Tanks Halted

ADVANCED U.S. HEADQUARTERS, South Korea, July 6 (Thursday) (AP).—

An American officer said today a North Korean tank column appeared to have been halted—at least temporarily—in the battle zone south of Suwon.

The Red tanks were reported stopped on a road leading southward from the Communist-held city 23 miles south of Seoul.

A road block or a blown-up bridge may have forced the North Koreans to halt in a position that would make it a target for American warplanes.

Communists in Control Of Trail Union, Is Claim

OTTAWA, July 5 (CP).—A charge of Communist control of the labor force in a Canadian plant producing atomic materials was made today by the Canadian Congress of Labor.

The executive committee of the 300,000-member C.C.L. attacked the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company for maintaining a contract with a Red-run union in its plant at Trail, B.C.

The charge drew immediate comment here and in British Columbia.

Defence Minister Brooke Claxton replied "No" when he was asked if such allegations at that at Trail were giving the Defence Department any particular concern.

RAPS STATEMENT

At Vancouver, Harvey Murphy, regional director of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers—which has the Trail labor contract—called the C.C.L. statement "desperate railing." He said the loyalty of the Trail workers could not be questioned.

The huge Trail plant is known to produce "heavy water," a vital ingredient in the production of the atom bomb and in peace-time-type atomic research.

The C.C.L.'s statement led emphasis on the Korean crisis as a reason for cleaning Communists out of the union at the strategic Trail plant.

UNION EJECTED

The mine-mill union was ejected from the Congress of Industrial Organizations in the United States on the ground that it was Communist-controlled. It also was thrown out of the C.C.L. for different grounds.

Little Chance Seen

Socialist Leader Faces Job of Forming Cabinet

PARIS, July 5 (Reuters).—Guy Mollet, secretary-general of the French Socialist Party and personally as much responsible as any single Socialist leader for the fall of France's last bourgeois Government, held the centre of the political stage tonight as he surveyed the chances of forming the next one—the 14th since the liberation.

President Vincent Auriol today invited Mollet to "undertake a mission of information" on the possibilities of forming a cabinet to succeed those of the Catholic leader Georges Bidault and Radical-Socialist Henri Queuille.

Political observers said Mollet has no chance of being accepted by the Assembly as Premier. But the President made the first offer to him because his party provoked the fall of the Queuille Government in its first appearance before the Assembly Tuesday.

Nothing will be known till Thursday night or Friday about the outcome of Mollet's negotiations. Only then will President Auriol name a Premier-Designate with a chance of forming a cabinet.

Says Carrier "Couldn't Go"

EDMONTON, July 5 (AP).—Commander K. Adgate, officer commanding the aircraft carrier Magnificent, said here tonight the ship "couldn't go at once" to the Pacific if the Dominion Government decided to send it to the Korean war zone.

Plan of Coast Defence Ready Should Blow Fall---Claxton

OTTAWA, June 6 (CP).—Canada is prepared to handle a surprise attack on Victoria or on Vancouver, Defence Minister Brooke Claxton assured a press conference today.

He intimated that U.S. warships would defend Canada's Pacific coast in the absence of Canadian naval units sent to Pearl Harbor.

Mr. Claxton also announced the start of a civil-defence training plan, said reserve forces would be strengthened, and indicated a bolstering of anti-aircraft defences of the Strait of Georgia, vital Great Lakes transportation channel.

Asked if the Government had any plan to handle an attack on Victoria or Vancouver tomorrow, the Defence Minister said, "We have a plan which could be put into effect very rapidly in anticipation of war."

POSSIBILITIES SEEN

Asked if American ships would be available for protection of Canada's West Coast, he said the defence of North America was integrated and "possibilities like that have been envisaged by our planners."

Mr. Claxton said Canada will not follow Australia's lead in invoking peacetime conscription. "It forms no part of our policy," he said. "We're not in favor of it."

He said Canada's primary need was not for men—although the forces will take new recruits—but for more military equipment.

His statement that "perhaps we will soon be issuing further anti-aircraft guns" to guard the Strait of Georgia was later confirmed.

Other reserve units will get further equipment, Mr. Claxton said. He added that a third regular R.C.A.F. fighter squadron would be formed late this year, and would be based in Eastern Canada.

Civil-defence plans will be started with the training of key personnel in certain fields as armed forces schools, Mr. Claxton said. An Ottawa conference this autumn will be followed by publication of a pamphlet on the objectives, needs and means of conducting civil-defence activities.

Stage Being Set

Surprise Russian Move Predicted in Far East

HONGKONG, July 3 (AP).—Diplomatic observers today predicted that Russia is setting the stage for a surprise move against the United States in the Far East.

They said the Russians probably would rush Chinese Communist troops from Manchuria to aid Soviet-supported North Korea in the Korean civil war.

Such a move "can be expected any time within the next month, and probably within 4-6 weeks," they added.

One observer gave these reasons for forecasting a Soviet offensive in the Far East:

1. His country (and he declined use of his nationality) as well as his name for diplomatic reasons: has "definite word" that the Chinese Reds have been massing troops in Manchuria since they captured Hainan Island, off the south China coast, a month ago.

For three days, independent Chinese newspapers here have reported intensified Communist troop movements northward from South China.

RUSSIA'S ANSWER

The diplomat added that the Chinese Red troops in Manchuria can be expected to cross into North Korea as Russia's answer to American support for invaded South Korea.

2. The recent withdrawal from Tokyo of high level members of the Soviet mission could be regarded

Fear Bulgar Action Against Yugoslavs

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 5 (AP).—Competent observers are wondering whether a new Communist offensive aimed at Yugoslavia and Greek Macedonia may be in the wind as the result of reported troop and supply movements in Bulgaria.

These sources said a Bulgarian attempt to unite Yugoslavia, Greek and Bulgarian Macedonia might be undertaken while world attention is focused on Korea.

The Bulgarian Army command has been "Russianized" in recent months.

Confidential reports received here said at least two Bulgarian divisions, plus several infantry regiments and an anti-tank regiment, are strung out along the Yugoslav border. This is the usual season, however, for troop exercises.

These reports said: A Russian general named Novikov has been put in command of the second Bulgarian Army with headquarters at Plovdiv, in the south-western part of the country.

Several infantry regiments and an anti-tank regiment moved from the Romanian border to Kyustendil, on Yugoslavia's Macedonia frontier.

New Traffic Rules to Wait For September Replacement

Victoria's hickety Streets Traffic By-Law, riddled with 90 amendments, will be replaced by a new one next September.

A. J. Patton, city solicitor, recommended that City Council hold its fire until then. Reason: the new by-law delegates some authority to the city manager, and the city manager is not due to take office until the end of the summer.

Only under the Municipal Manager Act is council allowed to delegate authority in this fashion. Mr. Patton reminded council how a merely technical delegation of authority to city officials resulted in the City's trades licence amendment being thrown out by the County Court.

Now, all traffic changes have to be approved by council—even minor shuffles in traffic signs. In time, the city manager will be able to handle many such changes on his own.

What is the native population of Alaska and the Aleutians?

Ans. Those who dilly-dally like the grasshopper may find themselves shivering next December. The mayor said Victorians "should take precautions now to see that they have sufficient coal, wood and sawdust in case of another hard winter."

He felt the fuel shortage could be worse than last winter's, because Vancouver Island now depends so heavily on Alberta coal.

Baptist Leader Speaks

Religion Termed Prime Difference Between Russians, Western World

The primary difference between the U.S.S.R. and the Western world is one of religion, a world-famous Baptist told a Victoria audience last night.

Dr. T. G. Dunning of London, England, for 22 years chairman of the Baptist World Alliance youth committee, spoke on "Russian Background and Present-Day Problems" at First Baptist Church.

He said that "while each from political, economic, social and religious—presents a different problem and must have a different solution... the supremacy of the religious issue should be realized."

He asked Baptists to "bear up the Russian church" in their prayers.

"OWN FAULT"
Dr. Dunning said much of the resistance being met with by the Eastern Orthodox Church in Russia was the fault of the church itself.

He said many Russians became convinced the church was old-fashioned and non-progressive during the early years after the Communist revolution.

"When the Soviets were trying to modernize Russian agriculture, the church took the stand that rust and insect plagues should not be met by insecticides, but by having a priest walk through the crops with a cross in his hands. They even trusted that the steam tractor was a machine with a devil inside."

The problems lying between Russia and the rest of the world have roots buried in centuries past, Dr. Dunning said, and "we must have patience, a readiness to learn and a readiness to see others as they see themselves."

Although Russia has no democratic background, he said, "one cannot believe that the human being created by God was ever intended to be a cog in a wheel... The instinct for creative work is inherent in every human."

He said Westerners should learn to "discriminate between the Russian people and the Russian government," and should "praise the good as well as condemn the evil" in the U.S.S.R.

Dr. Dunning touched only briefly on the Korean situation. The principal objective of military men, he said, is to limit the range of action there. If this is not done, flare-up could lead to a "war for the world."

Reserve Army Gunners to Receive Instructions in Radar, Plane Plotting

Reserve Army units will conduct two-week courses in radar, communications and aircraft plotting at the Albert Head camp for the three courses. Radar gear is already in position.

FULLY AUTOMATIC
Radio sets to be installed were only removed from the secret list a few weeks ago. The new sets are fully automatic and are tuned by simple push buttons.

A mobile plotting room has been installed. It contains every facility for the detection and plotting of aircraft as well as for communications required for anti-aircraft defense.

Although the camp is intended for regular members of the reserve army, a limited number of applicants will be accepted for the three courses.

Courses are for artillerymen of Victoria's 8th Anti-Aircraft Operations Unit. R.C.A. instruction will be given by regular army instructors. The latest types of radar and radio equipment is being installed at the Albert Head camp for the three courses. Radar gear is already in position.

Construction on the Alberni Highway is proceeding for six miles at Alberni Hill. For three miles east of Alberni the road is gravelled and in good condition. For the remaining three miles it is under construction.

Otherwise, the report said, highways are "in excellent condition."

The West's Veto Comes Tardily, But in Time

ONCE outside of the United Nations but this time inside of it, Western nations have held up their hand to Russia and said "No." The first time was the long-prepared-for attempt on the part of the Soviets to take over undivided possession of Berlin. That intended coup failed when the Kremlin understood that such an action would mean outright war, with the bulk of the world in the opposite camp. The real issue in South Korea is precisely the same. The West is using the most practical and effective form of veto that has been found yet to deal with this creeping aggression of the Communist Party in a war-sick world.

It is true, unfortunately, that sanctions voted overwhelmingly by the United Nations against the puppet Communist regime of North Korea have not as yet been brought into play in any effective measure, but they will be. Whatever force is found necessary to stop the invasion of South Korea from the North will be fielded, and will do its work. The invaders have had a long head start, and it will take a while to counteract that. This time, moreover, the weight of world opinion is solidly behind the defenders, not the aggressors. This time Russia herself is staring straight into the face of a cold, blank veto which means what it says. If it did not, peace would be gone from the face of the globe for the balance of this century.

At the moment, from the reports, there is considerably more embittered propaganda than actual fighting. If the determination of the West is properly understood in Moscow, the fighting may be contained in the South Korean theatre. If it is not understood, then the day is coming when Russia will have to be taught that No means No, and not Maybe. Meanwhile every free country, Canada included, should keep an eye on their active Communists, whose loyalties will become badly strained. There will be no room for a fifth-column inside of freedom's lines if the fighting spreads.

Aldermen Put Themselves Above the Law

SO the nasty principle of aldermanic exemption from the law has reached Victoria! By their own resolution Victoria's City Council members may now snap their fingers at the meters and park their cars wherever they please, and for as long as they please. They can keep the nickels in their pockets or handbags, and the meters can go on showing "Violation" from early morning till late in the evening for all they care.

As an example of aldermanic nerve this wins the jackpot. What makes a council member's time any more precious than anyone else's? Why should a member of the council feel put out about "having to walk back and forth several times a day from the aldermanic parking place at the Market Building" (about a block from the City Hall) when doctors, businessmen and thousands of others in a far bigger hurry than the council ever shows have to walk many times as far—and pay for their parking besides? All these people have to like it or lump it—but not the overworked aldermen.

From the twaddle exchanged at the meeting at which the aldermen cut themselves this delectable piece of cake, one item should be embroidered and hung in the council chamber. It was the shining remark of the alderman who said he "knew" that his colleagues would "use discretion in avoiding hampering the public." If exemption from parking restrictions for a select group isn't hampering the public it would be nice to know what is.

Well, here we go: Free parking for aldermen today—what tomorrow? Why not go a step further and give them all sirens and motorcycle escorts so that they can go screaming through stoplights like the Mayor of New York.

Rushing Helter-Skelter Would Be Silly Move

THE Toronto Globe and Mail seems strangely upset because Canada is sending only three destroyers to the Pacific in response to the United Nations' call for aid for South Korea. It affects scorn of the Government because it prefers to wait until advised by the United Nations precisely what form the aid should take. The Toronto daily also complains that Canada is being cautious, while implying that other nations are moving impetuously to the rescue.

What would the Eastern paper have this country do? Rush planes, troops and ships to the Far East helter-skelter? The Dominion does not have these assets in abundance, for one thing. For another, such action would be a nuisance rather than an aid. The United Nations appealed to its members to furnish such assistance as may be necessary, but a blanket invitation of this nature must be interpreted with common sense. A fine conglomeration there would be if each of the 32 endorsers of the United Nations' resolution sent men and equipment into the battle area without relation to the needs of the situation.

One limitation to date of the United Nations as an instrument of correction is that no express machinery exists for directing military sanctions. There is no agency to give cohesion to mutual action. So far the United States has taken the lead by virtue of its strength and Far Eastern placements. Obviously the efforts of other supporting nations will have to be correlated to American plans. A surfeit of disjointed formations would be a decided handicap in the task on hand.

The Toronto paper need not worry. Three warships are merely a first installment, an earnest token of Canada's honesty of purpose. This country will not fail to respond to the limit if such is required.

Mr. In common with many other citizens I have for some time past been greatly concerned with the processes by which candidates are selected for public office.

Some time ago R. Drachman, a very well-informed political writer, wrote an article entitled "A Good Parliament," having in mind, of course, the Parliament of Canada consisting of the House of Commons and the Senate as the most important governmental body in this country, and that in order to be effective it had to be strong. He stated, in part, as follows:

"Democratic government depends on the capacity of the people to think clearly and vote wisely. There will be many diverse opinions. If these opinions are too strongly held, if every voter insists that his way is the only way, then democratic government becomes impossible—chaos will take its place. . . . Difference of opinion is the basis of political parties. Those in agreement on general principles may differ in details. The individual will find it easier to compromise with other members of his party than with the members of opposing parties. This is the basis of loyalty to party. If each individual member holds tightly to every detailed segment of his opinion government becomes impossible. If there is not, among the members of a party, a general loyalty to the party, party government will cease to function. . . . Parliament is a place of discussion. . . ."

It was no accident that on the Conservative side a man of the stature of General Peckes was elected in the Nanaimo riding by a majority of 7,855 votes; nor on the Liberal side Mr. Mayhew was elected in Victoria by a majority of 9,170; nor again on the Conservative side that Mr. Green was elected in Vancouver-Quadrant by a majority of 5,979; nor again on the Liberal side that Mr. James Sinclair was elected in Coast Capilano by a majority of 9,063. They were not elected because in each case they were either Liberal or Conservative (political views do not vary much in these ridings), but because they commanded respect and therefore received support. A political party owes to the constituency in which it functions the power of selecting a candidate who will be acceptable on the same basis.

Without any reflection upon those who have been honorably defeated we can refer to Josiah Gilbert Holland who wrote under the title "The Day's Demand":

"God give us men! A time like this demands Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands."

Men whom the lust of office does not kill, Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy, Men who possess opinions and a will, Men who have honor, men who will not lie, Men who can stand before a demagogue And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking.

Tall men, sun crowned, who live above the fog In public duty and in private thinking."

To Any Poet

Thou whoapest through the earth—
All the earth's wild creatures fly thee;
Everywhere thou marcest mirth—
Dumbly they defy thee.
There is something they deny thee.

Pines, thy fallen nature ever
For the unfallen Nature sweet,
But she shuns thy tongue's effluvia,
Though her flowers and wheat
Throng and press thy pausing feet.

Though thou tame a bird to love thee,
Press thy face to grass and flowers,
All these things reserve above thee
Secrets in the bowers,
Secrets in the sun and showers.

Sing thy sorrow, sing thy gladness,
In thy songs must wind and tree
Bear the fictions of thy sadness,
Thy humanity.

For their truth is not for thee.

Thinking Aloud

of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings.

By TOM TAYLOR

THE comment of wartime Brigadier Fitzroy MacLean on the Korean situation is interesting.

MacLean is the man who was dropped by parachute to help Tito when the latter's Partisans got the nod of Western Allied approval, who stayed to expand guerrilla warfare against the Nazis in Yugoslavia, who before the war had lived for three years in Russia, who speaks Russian fluently, and who has a good idea how Russians and Communism in general tick.

He is no seer, but he thinks Stalin's bluff has been called and that there will be no third world war.

John Gunther in his "Inside the Curtain" touches on the same theme. He calls a British Cabinet minister as soberly assessing the Molotov post-war diplomacy to be the most successful seen in Europe for years. To disguise their essential weakness the Russians had with consummate skill pulled the wool over the entire world's eyes by frightening it with a campaign of threat, bombast and bluster.

Time and again in his book Gunther returns to another theme, viz: that Russian ignorance presented the chief danger of war. In Moscow there is a building as big as Washington's Pentagon, filled with every statistic about the U.S.A. ever known; but, says Gunther, the Soviets know nothing about American psychology.

Fitzroy MacLean has what might be a penetrating word on this subject too. Of Korea he says the "inescapable fact" is that Stalin has been badly advised and led to believe America would not fight.

This has an all too familiar ring. It is what happened in 1914 and again in 1939. The Kaiser was convinced, by his advisors, that the rape of Belgium would draw no fire from England. Hitler in turn was persuaded by his advisors that France and England were too supine to call a halt to his piece-meal conquests.

This makes you wonder why nations maintain embassies and large missions in other countries. You would think a first duty would be to interpret these foreign countries—with reality—their behaviour, their reactions, their habits of mind, their likely course of action.

Soviet diplomats are intelligent men, clever and able. Many of them have stayed long enough in Western countries to know the score fairly accurately. If they even followed the newspapers closely they could judge the basic temper of a people. They must have known that in America this was rising in proportion to Communist activity everywhere.

Why, then, would they mislead Stalin?

Unless it was, of course, that they were reluctant to send home reports that would make unpleasant reading. This wouldn't be surprising. Many diplomats besides Communists have preferred to hide from their superiors what they suspect to be unwelcome news.

Sometimes it's lesser men in the middle who are really responsible for great events.

Freedom of the Press

What precisely is meant by that familiar phrase, "freedom of the press?"

Fundamentally it is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers. It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom—the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear. The press claims no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy. But freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom because, under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public affairs. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless. An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential bulwarks of a democratic nation.

If any proof be needed, it is supplied by the record of the totalitarian dictatorships which have darkened the twentieth century. Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the cornerstone on which all these regimes—Nazi, Fascist and Communist alike—were founded. Without it, they could hardly have lasted for more than a few months. With it, they could keep their peoples in blinkers and drive them on any course they chose. The calamities of our age, its fear and insecurity, stem in no small measure from the simple fact that at critical periods great sections of the earth's population have been prevented by their rulers from learning the real news of the world.

These examples should provide a warning against any attempt, by governments or by private interests, to restrict the essential freedom of the press. A free people must stand on guard not only against direct censorship, but also against more insidious encroachments. Nominal freedom is not enough. The only truly free press is one which can record the news faithfully and comment on it frankly, without fear of direct or indirect punishment. Neither the press nor the public is safe with anything less than this.

A free liberty, of course, involves obligations. That of a free newspaper is to be truly free—it must strive to be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its reporting, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials, and resistant to all outside pressure. It must be both cautious and bold—cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground. It must, above all, be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understand it.

Such a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the free peoples of the world have traditionally granted to their press. Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.

Putting Wires Underground

By LAWRIE JOSLIN

EARLY this year City Council framed and passed with a unanimous vote a resolution favoring the principle of replacing, wherever possible, dangerous and ugly overhead light, power and telephone wires with underground lines.

No debate marked the passage of this resolution and little public notice was taken of it. The step should be viewed, however, as one of the most forward and enlightened made by council in recent months.

Almost any layman can visualize the tremendous advantages in terms of safety and beauty which his city would enjoy stripped of the existing maze of unsightly wires and cables over the streets.

The City Council resolution was passed at the request of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs which has gone on record as favoring complete abolition of overhead wiring.

The fire chiefs call overhead wiring a hazard to life and property, a menace to firefighters and an unsightly growth detracting from the appearance of city streets.

Pinnacles of dirt roads and jungles of red tape stand in the way of elimination of overhead wiring systems. But this is no reason why the problem should not be faced, a long-range policy set, and a way found through the difficulties.

Some cities in Canada are already taking positive action in this regard, making use of cheap and apparently efficient underground wiring materials discovered during the World War. Projects being developed appear to be proving that outmoded systems can be replaced by modern systems at additional costs in some instances of only 20 to 25 per cent.

The Victoria City Council would be governed by the British Columbia Municipal Act in the institution of a plan for removal of overhead wiring.

The act gives the council power to order underground installation of wiring. Presumably this would cover projects to be launched in previously undeveloped areas.

Utility companies may be compelled to remove poles or wires which are considered dangerous to the public safety, but sufficient latitude is allowed the council to order the placing underground of any existing overhead wires.

No doubt some project would already have been embarked upon if it were simply a matter of council ordering the desired improvements. The act states council must meet the utility companies to work out in special agreement the share of extra costs to be borne by the city and by the company.

Difference in cost between new and old-type systems can be borrowed by the council in very much the same way that money is borrowed for public works. Cost of such work can be imposed on the real property benefited through local improvement procedures.

Underground wiring must come progressively section by section, not in isolated steps, a block here and a block there.

Residents of a single block could not petition and have their overhead wires placed underground as a local improvement in the same way that a new sidewalk is secured. No utility system could give service to its consumers with a crazy quilt patchwork of underground and overhead lines.

Citizens of well defined areas like James Bay or Victoria West, however, could justifiably ask for installation of an underground system throughout the entire district.

The advantage of underground wiring like any other advantage is going to cost the consumer-citizen a certain amount of money depending on the far-sightedness and efficiency of utility company officials. Properly values would rise sharply following installation of such an improvement in much the same way that values jump wherever blighted housing areas are uprooted and replaced.

A man was having difficulties at the stamp booth of the post office.

"No," he said firmly, "I want two 15-franc stamps."

"Why don't you take one for 30 francs?" the clerk asked.

"I've got two letters to mail."

"Well, here are ten 3-franc stamps."

"But you've got 15-franc ones, haven't you?"

"Oh yes—but why don't you try airmail? It's much faster and only costs 30 francs more. Or take special delivery at 40 francs."

"Oh keep your stamps," the customer barked. "I'm going to get my stamps from the drugstore around the corner."

As the next customer approached the grinning postal clerk told him: "That was the local barber. Each time I go there to get a haircut he offers me everything else in the shop."

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

THERE is a type of motorist who does his or her thinking en route. That is, on the city street, they suddenly slacken speed and poke along at 15 m.p.h. while they make up their minds.

On the busy down-town streets, if they happen to be husband and wife, or what is more common, a couple of ladies, they come almost to a stop as they lean and stare at the shops while struggling towards some sort of a decision. Meantime, traffic behind them has to share in their indecision. Sometimes you can get a string of uncertainty a block or two long, all helping, in a profound sort of way, these good citizens to make up their minds what to do.

On the highways in the country, you can also see people making up their minds while occupying the right of way. They slow down. They speed up. Then they almost come to a stop. Then all of a sudden they put on a furious burst of speed. You can practically follow the argument pro and con. It sometimes comes to the point where the husband at the wheel puts his arm out for a left-hand turn, while his wife puts hers out commanding for a right-hand turn.

It is in their motor cars that our Canadian citizens give the greatest reassurance as regards any trend towards Communism or any trend requiring unanimity and whole-hearted co-operation. Motorists reveal, as nothing else in our social system does, the rugged individualism and spirit of Canadians.

If some poor comrade is trying to emerge from a side street, the rest of us put on speed to block off his exit. If it says no parking, we park. Where it says double parking prohibited, we double park as a matter of principle. As naturally as we breathe, we cut in, cut out, elbow, twist, beat one another to the jump whenever possible.

Motorists is the finest and subversive exercise in the world.

Today he tried again—and made it—on a plane with wider seats and longer safety straps.

Western Crop Conditions Improve, Survey Shows

OTTAWA, July 5 (AP)—Crop conditions in the Prairie Provinces generally have improved in the last two weeks, the Bureau of Statistics said today in a periodic summary of crop prospects across Canada.

Grasshopper control measures have kept the situation well in hand in all three provinces, except in some local areas of Eastern Alberta. Extensive weed-spraying campaigns are under way, particularly in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

In Manitoba, moisture supplies are more than adequate. Crops, though late, are making good progress and production, given warmer weather, should be "very satisfactory."

Moisture conditions have improved over most of Saskatchewan and about 30 per cent of the wheat crop is in the shot blade. However, seasonal rain and moisture reserves still are below normal in many sections and substantial rains will be needed to permit development of normal crops in those sections.

In Alberta, recent rains have improved crop prospects but early-seeded crops in most areas were too far advanced to make a good recovery. Thin stands and short heads indicate below average yields. Serious hail damage has occurred in many parts of the southwest.

In British Columbia, crops are making excellent growth where moisture supplies are ample. Some areas are dry. Haying is general and fall grains are beginning to mature in some sections. A reduced strawberry crop is expected due to hot, dry weather.

Accident Kills Two Soldiers Filming Battle

QUEBEC, July 5 (AP)—Two members of the Royal 22nd Regiment Parachute Corps were drowned last night and two others were rescued in the filming of a battle scene of a film to be entitled "Quebec."

Army authorities said the victims were Ptes. J. Bellavance and G. H. Madore, both single and both from Rimouski, Que. Next-of-kin were given as L. de G. Bellavance, Rue Dame, Rimouski, and J. B. Madore, Rue Ouellette, Rimouski.

The drownings occurred at the height of a battle scene on the St. Lawrence River near Brown's Wharf on the city's waterfront.

Thirty men, all members of the Royal 22nd Regiment and most of them members of the regiment's parachute corps, participated.

The Romanian news agency Agence Press said in the broadcast the Romanian Foreign Office told Bishop O'Hara Tuesday he must quit the country by Friday.

LOS ANGELES, July 5 (AP)—Otis Barton, only man in history to see the weird creatures who inhabit the ocean at a depth of 4,500 feet, is going to try again.

Sometime this summer the Boston scientist plans to take his steel diving bell down to at least one mile, and perhaps to 5,000 feet.

Most of Barton's record-setting descent last August off Santa Cruz Island was made in darkness because his lighting system failed. Consequently, his movie cameras did not record the strange, self-illuminated sea creatures he described by telephone during the perilous dive.

This time, however, the lighting will be ocean-proof, he said yesterday. Powerful bulbs sealed in mineral oil will be attached to the outside of the 7,600-pound ball which Barton calls a "benthoscope."

Police Slay Robin Hood Of Sicily

CASALVETTERANO, Sicily, July 5 (Reuters)—Armed, steel-helmeted Italian carabinieri tonight stood guard over the fresh grave of Salvatore Giuliano, Sicilian bandit "king."

Giuliano was killed early today in a hail of police Tommy-gun bullets in this little Sicilian village. His death ended a five-year hunt.

He began his career as a bandit just after the war when strong Sicilian feelings against rule by Rome prompted him to offer Sicily to the United States.

For the last year Giuliano had armed an army of 2,000 crack police, defied the teeth and sworn to kill or capture him.

RUTHLESS

The bandit, wanted for the slaying of some 120 people—105 of them policemen—was ruthless in his treatment of those who stood in his way.

But the wavy-haired, handsome, 28-year-old Giuliano finally met death because of his weakness for women.

He had escaped from the police net thrown around his cave headquarters in the rugged Montelepre Mountains further north. Police were without clues.

Then Col. Ugo Tullio, chief of the anti-Giuliano police force, began to check up on Giuliano's known girlfriends and watched their houses.

In the early hours of this morning a plain-clothes detail in this village saw a dark figure leave one of the suspected houses.

ARMED SQUADS

Armed squads were hurriedly called. A blast of fire struck the house. Giuliano attempted to break out and was cut down in the doorway.

The "Robin Hood of Sicily" died as he had lived—a gun in his hand.

Giuliano, in spite of the millions of lire he made from armed holdups and ransoms, died a poor man.

Mediation Impossible In Korean Situation

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR. A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

Mediation between the United States and Russia on the Korean situation, as suggested by India, is obviously impossible.

Yugoslavia first proposed mediation in Korea instead of the United Nations Security Council's original cease-fire order. India seconded the idea at the same time she agreed to go along on the resolution for armed intervention, and followed through by offering to mediate herself between the United States and Russia.

In the first place, Russia would have to abandon her pretense of non-responsibility in Korea if they accepted such an offer. In the second place, if mediation between the United States and Russia on Korea were possible, it would be possible to apply it to the whole cold war situation, another obvious impossibility.

Instead of a desire to accept mediation, Russia appears more interested now, following direct Allied military intervention, in getting out of the whole thing with some face left. This is strongly suggested by Gromyko's statement Monday night, emphasizing Russia's non-interventionist policy and comparing the right of the Koreans to settle their country's status among themselves with the American Civil War.

IDEA COOLS

As a matter of fact, India seems to have cooled off on the mediation idea within a few hours of its publication. Her U.N. representatives agree that "the time is not ripe."

But India does continue to cite the beneficial results of negotiations between the Prime Ministers of India and Pakistan in the Kashmir matter as an example of the possibilities of high-level conferences. Stalin and Truman are obviously in mind.

Instead of mediation and the like, attention at Lake Success is centered on implementation of the Korean intervention program. The Security Council is expected to meet within 48 hours to clarify General Douglas MacArthur's status in the Allied program, probably to designate him as the U.N. commander over and above his duties as Allied high commander in the area. Use of the U.N. flag beside the national banners of the participating Allies is expected to follow.

"RUBBER STAMP"

Indications are that the United States wants someone else to move the resolutions on these matters, to get somewhat away from the appearance that the Security Council is acting as a rubber stamp for American policy in Korea.

Gromyko tried to make a lot out of this U.N.-U.S. parallel, accusing the council of permitting itself to be used as a puppet, or words to that effect.

What Mr. Gromyko doesn't say, although he couldn't have stayed at Lake Success as long as he did without knowing it, is that instead of "using" the council, the United States and other members have been forced into an identity of interest. And the force which resulted in fusion comes from Mr. Gromyko and his friends.

Howe Says Policy Favors Relaxing, Not Extending Controls on Trade

Canadian Government policy has been "one of relaxing and not imposing further controls on exports and imports," the Victoria Trades and Labor Council was informed at its meeting last night in a letter signed by Trade Minister C. D. Howe.

The letter, read by council secretary Percy Raymond, was in reply to an unanimous council resolution addressed to the minister two weeks ago protesting the effects of unrestricted exports of Canadian products, particularly meat and lumber.

Noting the recent $26 per thousand lumber price increase, the council letter said the council recognized the need for United States dollars, but felt that "the food and shelter of the Canadian people must be the first consideration at all times and that the unrestricted export of these items is contrary to the public welfare."

PRICE DOUBLED

"Since the removal of export quotas and price control of lumber, the price has doubled," the letter stated.

In reply, Mr. Howe said that controls had been in force to "achieve a better balance in Canada's trade, particularly with the United States."

"The Government was under considerable pressure in 1948 to lift the embargo on the export of beef and beef cattle to the United States. This embargo was imposed and maintained in order to keep sufficient supplies for the armed forces, and with the complete concurrence of the United States Government. But when the necessity for this restriction was no longer applicable, the embargo was lifted."

"The exports to date this year of beef and beef cattle and lumber have, to a large extent, been responsible for the great improvement in our balance of trade position with the United States."

LOBBYING FAILS

United States meat packers and lumber operators had lobbied unsuccessfully in the United States to restrict imports of Canadian beef and lumber, the letter noted.

"Now, despite the fact that this unrestricted exports, coupled with a strong market in the United States, is causing an increase in prices in Canada, it would be inadvisable for us to take measures to restrict this trade."

"If we were to follow such a policy, the United States Administration, when under pressure to exclude Canadian imports on a falling market, would not have the same justification to support a free market."

Mr. Raymond termed the Minister's letter "a lot of words to give us the brush-off."

GOOD WAGES

Thirty-five thousand British Columbia lumber workers are getting good wages as a result of the current United States boom, declared Automotive Workers' delegate George Wilkinson.

Re-imposition of quotas and greater dependence on home markets would mean unemployment for a considerable portion of these, he said.

"The mistake is in allowing Canadian prices to keep pace with those being asked on the United States market."

Mr. Wilkinson said also that he did not believe the recently-set price of $96 a thousand was as complete and widespread as reports indicated.

"I know of builders who have been told by certain firms that, if they continue as customers, they can keep on getting their lumber at the old price."

Logging unemployment resulting from return to a quota system would be offset by a continued high rate of building and home construction, argued Building Trades Council Secretary J. A. D'Iscoli.

There had already been a number of local lay-offs by contractors as a direct result of the lumber price increase, he said.

Mr. Raymond agreed and was authorized by the meeting to write again to the minister, reiterating the council's views and emphasizing that present prices were working hardships on increasing numbers of persons.

Oak Bay Tax Collection Percentage Is Record High for Recent Years

Oak Bay taxpayers have just finished ringing up the largest tax collection percentage in the recent history of the municipality.

The municipal council last night gave its ratemakers a pat on the back for their prompt payment of taxes by the June 30 deadline.

Collections to that date amounted to 93.035 per cent compared with 91.212 per cent at the corresponding time last year. Estimated collections for the whole year is 97 per cent, the same as last year.

Cash received for current taxes up to the end of June this year totals $463,612, A. D. Findlay, municipal clerk, reported.

"If it is not the highest collection on record, it is surely the highest for many years," he stated.

TO TEST WATER

Medical Health Officer Dr. Neil R. Stewart today will start making tests to determine the purity of sea water on Oak Bay beaches. "The tests are strictly a safety measure. Pollution is not suspected, but it is deemed advisable to make such periodic tests," Acting Reeve George Murdoch suggested the tests.

Six areas will be tested this week and a like number next week. Samples of water will be taken from Boathouse beach, Rattenbury beach, Oak Bay beach, Willows Park beach and the beach at the foot of Estevan Avenue.

Dr. Stewart reported to the council there has been a "mild epidemic" of chicken pox and whooping cough in Oak Bay, the former mainly occurring among first-grade pupils of Monterey School. In the whole municipality, from March to June, there have been 24 cases of chicken pox, ten of mumps, 13 of whooping cough, three of measles, one of rubella and one of salmonella.

The baby clinic attendance, the doctor said, has been steadily increasing and during the past three months 170 babies have attended. There have been 82 immunizations and 16 vaccinations.

"If the present rate of attendance increase continues, it would soon become necessary to hold the clinic weekly instead of twice a month," he added.

OVER ESTIMATE

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb informed the council Oak Bay's share of the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax up to March 31 is $66,052.

"This amount is considerably higher than council had estimated in this year's budget."

Council endorsed a Victoria City resolution recommending that no action be taken regarding allocation of the municipalities' share of the tax for any specific purpose other than general municipal purposes.

"The city has taken an admirable stand," declared Councillor R. B. Wilson.

CONCERNED

Acting Reeve Murdoch expressed concern over the use of chemicals to kill weeds in soil, a system now being used in the district. The chemical used is a mixture of methyl bromide and chloroperlin, and is deadly poison.

Council asked the medical health officer to advise them on the subject. Meanwhile, officials will attend a demonstration at 2 p.m. today on Forrester Street to get first-hand knowledge.

Acting Reeve Murdoch felt the municipality should have a by-law to regulate the sale and use of the chemical.

APPROVED

Request of the Optimist Club for permission to hold a "Peanut Day" July 21 was approved by the council. A grant will be made by the council to cover the cost of a trades licence.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE Municipal assessor R. F. Shandy will attend the first conference of the British Columbia Association of Assessors, September 7 and 8 at Penticton.

PETITION

M. E. Smith and ten other residents of Cranmore Road petitioned the council asking that the use of Oak Bay High School grounds as a public ball park be discontinued.

Council felt statements in the petition were "exaggerated" and referred part of the petitioners' complaints to the police department and another part to the engineer.

RETURNING OFFICERS

Municipal Clerk Findlay and his assistant, Edward Hall, were appointed returning officer and deputy returning officer, respectively, for the July 22 police commission by-election.

Convoyed Settlers

Veteran of Old Mounties, G. B. Moffatt Dies at 95

One of the oldest veterans of the Northwest Mounted Police died in Victoria Tuesday night at the age of 95.

He was George B. Moffatt of 931 Transit Road.

He joined the newly-organized police force as a trooper in 1872 at the age of 18. In the ensuing years, Mr. Moffatt took part in convoying several parties of settlers across the Prairies and was a witness to the hanging of Louis Riel in Regina in 1885.

SUPERINTENDENT

He was promoted to the rank of inspector and later retired as a superintendent in the force. He had lived at his Transit Road home for the past eight years with his housekeeper, Mrs. Mary Boulton, an old friend of the family.

Mr. Moffatt has no close relatives here. His son was killed in the Great War, and his wife died several years ago.

Warren's Indignant Complaint Speeds Home to Roost

George I. Warren, Victoria, and Island Publicity Bureau commissioner, found yesterday it doesn't always pay to complain.

His "indignant protest" against a Saturday Evening Post serial was printed in the magazine's current issue, along with a tongue-in-cheek note from a Post editor.

In his letter Mr. Warren said: "... We hope you will give space to ... an indignant protest against your current serial Legacy of Fear by Garret Weston, May 6-June 24. The story with its innuative inferences has no place in The Saturday Evening Post ...

"Our protest is prompted by the "Victoria, apparently, is the haunt of Chinese kidnappers, gangsters, thugs and penciled-eyebrowed Chinese seductresses; of opium dens, filthy malodorous fish-and-chip joints ..."

Commented The Saturday Eve-

Llewellyn-Wilson Rites Held at Christ Church

A double-ring ceremony in Christ Church Cathedral on Monday morning united Ruth, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Charles Wilson, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, and Mr. Ian Lawrence Llewellyn, 1140 Pandora Avenue, Victoria. Rev. Dean Calvert officiated.

A gown of rose-patterned Belgian lace in period style with slashed neckline, lily point sleeves and full skirt gathered at the back and falling into a slight train, was worn by the bride—who was given in marriage by Mr. Wilfred L. Llewellyn. A lace pillow hat held her elbow-length veil in place and she carried a cascade bouquet of honeysuckle and tea roses.

The mistress of honor, Mrs. R. O. Cave, wore orchid net over tulle, fashioned with a full skirt gathered at the back and overskirt of white dotted point d'esprit. Her bonnet was wreathed with sweet peas to match her colonial bouquet of sweet peas and tea roses.

The two flower girls, Ann and Gail Moyer, nieces of the groom, wore frocks of blue and yellow-flowered organza on white background. They also carried sweet peas and tea roses arranged in posy bouquets.

Mr. Richard Moyer supported the groom and Mr. R. O. Cave and Mr. J. Cullen were ushers.

Sweet peas and honeysuckle decorated the reception room at the Windmere Hotel where guests were received.

For a honeymoon spent motoring Up-Island, the bride wore a grey and white patterned silk dress and pale grey topcoat with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn will live at Lee Oaks Apartments, 2310 Lee Avenue.

Wedding Trip To Mainland

A honeymoon is being spent on the mainland by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar George MacKay, who were married in Centennial United Church, Friday evening. Rev. W. R. Ashford officiated at the ceremony uniting Hannah Isabella, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Lansell of Yellow Grass, Sask., and the only son of the late Mrs. Elizabeth M. May.

A dressmaker suit in blue-grey tone with grey accessories and corsage of red roses and white heather was worn by the bride. Her sole attendant, Mrs. Pearl Anderson, also wore a grey ensemble with pink and white carnations in corsage.

Mr. Stanley Leny was groomsmen, and ushers were Mr. George Boothby and Mr. Sidney Bell.

Sweet peas, orange blossoms and roses decorated the main hall, Williams Building, where the reception was held.

For traveling, Mrs. MacKay topped her wedding ensemble with a burgundy coat.

The couple will live at 219 Howe Street, Victoria.

Doreen Maltby Chooses Bouffant Nylon Gown

The marriage of Doreen Cecilia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maltby of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mr. Raymond Chamberlain, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chamberlain, 222 St. Charles Street, Victoria, took place last Wednesday at the Bishop's Palace, St. Andrew's Cathedral. Father M. Costello officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of aqua nylon organza fashioned with brief sleeves, low square neckline inset with white lace, and a full skirt. Elbow-length mitts and a white straw picture hat completed her ensemble. She carried a Prayer Book.

Her sister, Miss Ramona Maltby, as maid of honor, wore pink organza with tan accessories. Lawrence James was best man.

The Chamberlain home, where the reception was held, was decorated with green and white flowers which repeated the green and white motif on the bride's three-tiered cake. Her uncle, Mr. William Maltby of Portland, Ore., proposed the toast to the bride.

For going away, the bride changed into a steel blue gabardine suit with white accessories. After a honeymoon spent in the interior of British Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain will take up residence at the Park Lane Apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. John Renton Up-Island on Honeymoon

Larkspur and delphiniums decorated the flower-decked table was cut by the newbrides.

The couple will motor up the island for their honeymoon, the bride traveling in a wing blue tulle coat over an aqua floral silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Renton will reside at 118 Maddock Avenue, until the fall, when the groom will resume his studies at the University of British Columbia.

St. Matthew's Guild Garden Party will be held this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bayles, 1040, immediately behind the new post office. Pupils of the Ellen School of Dancing will give a recital and various stalls have been arranged.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Rev. Thomas Taylor, the bride was radiant in a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with scalloped neck outlined with pearls and full skirt sweeping into a full train. Her billow veil was arranged under a corset caught at the sides with orange blossoms. A gold and pearl pendant belonging to her mother provided "something borrowed," and was her only ornament. A Colonial bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas and blue delphinium-tips completed her costume.

Miss Doreen Renton, frocked in yellow nylon with sheer yoke and short sleeves worn with short white gloves, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a yellow bandeau with short matching veil and carried a Colonial bouquet of Tallman-roses, cornflowers and delphinium-tips.

Mr. Ray LeHuquet acted as best man, and ushers were Mr. Sam Peat, brother of the bride, and Mr. Jack Spiller.

The reception was held at the home of the bride, where Mr. J. G. Smart proposed the health of the bride. The three-tier cake centered with the newbrides.

The flower-decked table was centered with the two-tier wedding cake. Mr. W. A. Stenner proposed the health of the bride. Leaving for the honeymoon the bride donned a navy blue shortie coat over her wedding costume.

The Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.G.E., tea scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Watson on July 21 has been postponed until a later date.

Varied Imported Cheeses

Now that there are so many new cheeses being imported into the country, it might be a good idea to list a few of them so that you can become well acquainted.

Roquefort from France, Gorgonzola from Italy and Stilton from England were hailed by gourmets before the war. They are creamy white, semi-soft, and have a marbling of green veins. They are good dessert cheeses, and the Roquefort especially is fine added to salad dressings and as a stuffing for celery, etc.

Brie is a soft, rather bland white cheese, with a skin much like that of Camembert. It is imported from France, and is good with salads and with fruit for dessert.

Camembert of course you know, for a very good reason—it is made in this country. But there is wonderful Camembert coming from France. Leave this at room temperature to let it become mellow and creamy on the side—and to develop its pungent flavor. It is best when bought whole in its round carton—not sectioned and wrapped in foil. On hard cheeses apples or pears make a dessert fit for a king. Pont l'Evêque resembles it, and must also be "ripened."

"Cannonball" Edam, come from Holland. Its red coated and pale yellow inside. They keep well, and are decorative on the buffet cheese board. Excellent with salad. We have a domestic variety, too, of course. If you are not familiar with the number of Italian cheeses on the market, you'll have a treat turning to know them. Parmesan is probably the most popular for its use, grated, with spaghetti, soups and so on. There are the sausage-shaped Provolone and Caciocavallo that are good eaten, and also grated. Bel Paese is somewhat like Brie—very mild. Incunatore is a soft cheese of hot steam, whitish inside and out, and is best eaten in thin slices with a sprinkling of cayenne pepper. Made from goats' milk is Gjetost from Norway. It is an appetizer and cheese-board staple, a dark brown with a faintly sweet taste.

Swiss Emmenthaler (the huge wheels with holes) is at its best

Calling All Weight Watchers

Are you watching your waist line these days? It's wise to streamline now for those warm summer days when coats and bulky clothes are laid aside. That's when your friends cast a critical eye in your direction and think, "Him, looks heavier to me." One plan that not only produces good results, but actually makes you more efficient in your work, is as follows: Eat a substantial, well-balanced breakfast—fruit, egg coffee—and a dinner which includes a fair-sized portion of meat or fish, salad, green vegetable, and fruit; but eat a light lunch.

Here's an ideal luncheon plan:

1. A bowl of cream of tomato soup garnished with watercress.
2. Reducing wafers.
3. A green salad (cucumber-slices, head lettuce)—with buttermilk dressing. (Recipe below.)

This luncheon totals only 226 calories and gives you a lift and a lift that will carry you through the most strenuous afternoon. It's a good repeater, too, you won't tire of it easily.

BUTTERMILK DRESSING

- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley
- 1 table-spoon minced onion
- 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 3 table-spoons tomato ketchup
- 1 teaspoon cider vinegar

Place ingredients in jar or bottle. Shake well. Chill. Serve on green salads. (Yield: 1 1/2 cups.)

Jellied Chicken Ideal For Hot Weather Dishes

Meat prices being what they are, we are forced to depend more and more on chicken. So that it won't become monotonous, we will have to scrounge around for some new and different recipes.

Here's one that is particularly good in hot weather. Jellied chicken: Boil a fowl in 2 quarts of water, slowly, for 3 hours, or until the chicken is tender. Remove all bones when it is done, and set the meat to chill. Later, cut in small dice.

Remove the fat from the chicken broth.

Soak 2 table-spoons of gelatin in the juice and grated rind of 2 lemons. Dissolve it in 2 1/2 cups of chicken broth brought to a boil. When dissolved, add salt and pepper to taste. Strain through cheese-cloth, and add a dash of Worcestershire sauce. Put in refrigerator until set to heavy syrup consistency. Cut the contents of a 4-ounce can of pimientos in strips about 1/4-inch wide. Slice 3 hard-cooked eggs very thin.

Wet individual cups or molds with cold water, and lay a slice of hard-cooked egg in the bottom of each one. Put strips of pimiento running from top to bottom on the opposite side of mold, with another slice of egg between them. Now put the chicken in carefully to hold the decoration in place. Pour in the chilled gelatin. Put in refrigerator overnight to become firm and cold.

Delegate Feted

The lawn of the Murray Drive home of Mrs. Ruby Masters was the setting for a garden supper of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club recently.

About 40 members gathered under the trees to enjoy a cold buffet supper which was in charge of Mrs. M. McClement and her committee. Presentation was made to Miss Minnie Beveridge, provincial president, who left Friday on an extended trip.

Chilled Caramel Custard Lifts Tired Summer Menu

One of my favorite desserts is caramel custard, served cold, with the caramel oozing down in a delicious sauce.

The first step is to caramelize 1/2 cup of sugar in a deep frying pan over low heat, being careful not to let it burn. Stir it often, and occasionally lift the pan off the fire. When it is a golden brown, pour it at once into individual custard cups or ramekins. Tip and turn the cups so that the caramel coats the sides as well as the bottom.

Make the custard by beating 6 eggs, and adding 1/2 cup of sugar, a pinch of salt, and 1/4 teaspoon of vanilla. Slowly pour in 1 pint of milk, stirring gently until all the ingredients are well mixed.

Pour the custard into the caramelized cups, set them in a pan of hot water, and bake in a slow oven (about 300-325 degrees) for 45 minutes.

Unfold after being well chilled, turning out so the caramel is on top. Serve at once while cold.

Another nice summertime dessert is a banana-mold.

Soak 2 1/2 table-spoons of gelatin in 1/2 cup of cold water. Stir until dissolved—about 5 minutes. Add a cup of sugar, a cup of boiling water and 1 1/2 table-spoons of strained orange juice. Mix well and chill until thickened, but not set. Then fold in 1/2 cup of cream, whipped.

Peel 6 bananas and force them through a sieve. Sprinkle the pulp with lemon juice to keep the fruit from turning dark. Then beat until very light and fluffy. Combine with the jelly and stir lightly until well blended. Pour into a mold and chill until set.

Cool Salad

Avocado and grapefruit are always good for a salad, but if you embellish them with frozen Roquefort squares, you've really got something. Mix 1/2 pound of cream cheese with about 2 ounces of Roquefort cheese. Mix 1 table-spoon of lemon juice, a good dash of salt and a sprinkle of cayenne pepper. Blend in the cheeses working them until smooth. Add 1/4 cup of whipped cream and a faint tinge of green coloring. Turn into freezing tray and freeze solid. Cut in squares.

On a bed of watercress, arrange avocado slices and grapefruit sections, together with the frozen squares. Serve with a French dressing made with lemon juice.

Municipalities Support Brief On Sales Tax

Three British Columbia cities and municipalities have backed Victoria's brief to Premier Byron Johnson, urging that sales tax payments to municipalities not be earmarked for any special purpose.

Harrison Hot Springs, Prince Rupert and Courtenay have replied in indicating approval of the brief, which was forwarded to every British Columbia municipality. Courtenay enclosed a copy of a letter sent by its council to the Premier.

Vancouver is referring the brief to its finance committee, which meets July 12.

At present there are no strings on sales tax payments to municipalities. According to rumor, the Minister of Education is considering a proposal that the money be earmarked for education.

If the proposal went through, the Victoria brief said, it would reduce the tax levy for school purposes and increase the levy for general purposes. General tax levy is limited by the Municipal Act to 35 mills.

The suggested change would boost Victoria's general mill-rate to more than 30, and might make it impossible for some municipalities to keep within the 35-mill limit, the brief said.

Tourist Cars Robbed Here; Suspect Gang

City detectives are investigating a wave of thefts from American cars overnight Tuesday three tourist cars were broken into and a large quantity of articles stolen.

H. S. Garbino, Shippensburg, Penn., reported that thieves broke one of his car's windows while it was parked near the Empress Hotel. Two ladies' purses were stolen.

At the Windsor Motor Court, George Road, Harry M. Parker, Watsonville, California, had his car entered in a similar manner. Missing are two suitcases, one suit, one pair of slacks, five shirts, several pairs of socks, two dresses, one coat, one gown, six pairs of nylon stockings, some underwear and several ornaments.

A car owned by Clarence E. Rowland, St. Louis, Missouri, was broken into while parked near the Crystal Garden. A jacket, one suit, two raincoats, one alicker and a pair of blankets were taken.

Police are believed to be working on the theory that the thefts were committed by the same gang.

The area of Alberta is 255,285 square miles, of which 6,485 are water.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Uncle Wiggily Story - - - By Howard Garis

THE BIG SHOW

Jumping the circus horse was a strange sight as he can around the ring, trotted up to the jumping horse, and then, instead of going over it, he stopped, turned around and ran the other way. The reason, of course, was that Jumping was accustomed to having Chitter-Chatter the monkey on his back. But Chitter-Chatter had run away from the circus to find a butterfink buttercup.

"I do hope we can find someone to take Chitter-Chatter's place this afternoon," said Little Lilliput, as Jumping the horse ran out of the tent. "Are they going to speak about it from the ring?"

"Yes, I think Hippo, the manager, will ask if anyone in the audience would like to ride Jumping," Uncle Wiggily replied.

By noon everything was ready for the opening of the circus. The ticket sellers were at their tall stands to sell tickets for the main circus or for the sideshows, which is what they called the shows in the little tents. Where special acts are performed. The lemonade dogs had big jars full of pink, orange and yellow lemonade. Some rabbits had big bunches of blue, red and white balloons that floated above them like small colored moons. And there were popcorn sellers, too, and kittens selling frankfurters on rolls. Everyone seemed to be having a wonderful time, as though they expected this circus day to be the best ever seen in Woodland.

The crowd started to arrive about 1 o'clock. There were children and animals, and it was hard to say who were the more excited. The children jumped up and down in glee, and the squirrels, chipmunks, beavers, rabbits, chickens, and all the others of the animals who lived near the Orange Ice Mountain were so eager to see the circus that they ran around and around like roller skaters in a park.

"Now you see how they like my circus!" exclaimed Womaring the Hippo, as he strutted proudly toward the main tent. "Have you ever seen a circus so popular, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Indeed I haven't," the gentleman rabbit admitted. "You have a wonderful circus here, Womaring."

So Uncle Wiggily and Sammie and Susie Littleall and Jackie Bow-Wow, who were all traveling with the circus, went into the big tent and took seats in the grandstand. They didn't have to pay anything because they were guests of the circus.

"I'm awfully anxious to know whether anyone will be found who can ride Jumping," said Little Lilliput, as he looked at the jumping horse. "He's such a nice horse!"

"He certainly is," Uncle Wiggily agreed. "But now listen to that circus band! You can hear the bass drum that I fixed by letting the sun shine on it to stretch and tighten the head."

The band really did play beautifully. The big bass drum went "boom, boom!" with a fine noise, and Skip the squirrel played his slide trombone very sweetly. Then the performers came out—the dancing poodles, the trick dogs, and the laughing cat, Harlow's mother and father, who stood on their paws on each other's noses—one nose at a time, of course—and the monkeys did stunts on the trapeze, and the children and the animals who were watching clapped and clapped and laughed and laughed.

Then Hippo, the manager, stepped into the middle of the ring.

"He's going to ask if anyone wants to try to ride Jumping!" Jackie exclaimed. "I'm so excited I can hardly sit still!"

But now let's all be quiet, and tomorrow, if the lawn mower doesn't mow the hedge instead of the grass, we'll see what happened.

Civil Service Bargaining Rights Requested

Two resolutions, calling upon the Trades and Labor Congress to press for "Dominion Government legislation granting Government employees the right to bargain collectively with their employers and sign work agreements, were endorsed at a meeting of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council last night.

The resolutions will be submitted for presentation at the T.L.C. convention commencing September 11 at Montreal.

Not endorsed was a letter to Defence Minister Brooke Claxton from Victoria Local 230, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, which the union also wanted to see incorporated as a resolution in the council's submissions to the T.L.C. convention.

The letter charged that non-veterans who were employed in essential industry during the war and persons who were rejected by the armed services were being discriminated against by employers.

NOT VETERANS

"They cannot obtain employment at H.M.C. Dockyard or other Government services or private enterprises because they are not veterans," the letter asserted, asking that consideration be given to such workers when they apply for positions.

The letter then went on to charge that newly-arrived persons from England were receiving preference over Canadians in Government job vacancies and asked the minister to consider a five-year residence qualification for new employees at the dockyard and other Government services.

Displaced persons should be barred entirely from Government employment, particularly in National Defence positions, the union felt.

The letter was referred for further study to the council's unemployment committee, which last night recommended instead one of the two resolutions seeking collective bargaining right for Government employees.

"We can't have first and second-class citizens," declared acting committee chairman Margaret Burgoyne, referring to the union letter.

Council president and local I.C.E.W. representative C. A. Peck admitted that, "although I signed it, the last part does smack of racial discrimination."

Mr. Mayor Fails

Eleventh annual Gyr Club Hole-in-One Tournament and Carnival was officially opened last night at Central Junior High School grounds by Mayor Percy George. First attempt to drop ball in cup with No. 7 iron proved miserable failure for mayor. He improved after a few more tries after changing to different iron. Tournament will continue today, Friday and Saturday.

Bakery Union May Seek Strike Vote

Possibility of a strike of employees of two Nanaimo bakeries, announced yesterday following announcement by the Labor Relations Board of a majority conciliation report recommending a $1.75 weekly wage increase, retroactive to June 1, for workers employed by Canadian and McGowan Bakeries Ltd.

The majority report, signed by Alex McFarlane and C. Ian Cameron, criticized employers' action in demanding that every request made by them be granted.

The employees' attitude in refusing to discuss or consider any counter-proposals of the employers, regardless of merit, leaves much to be desired.

The majority report recommended reduction of ten cents an hour in all extra compensation paid for night work.

The $2.50 weekly wage increase sought by the union, Local 448 of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International Union of America (A.F.L.-C.I.O.), was recommended in a minority report submitted by union nominee J. D. Temple.

Union officials indicated yesterday that the Nanaimo employees' next step would be rejection of the majority report and request for a Government-supervised strike vote, unless their demands were met.

The Local 448 membership includes both Vancouver and Nanaimo employees of the two firms.

The $2.50 increase sought by the union is equal to that agreed on in negotiations last year in Vancouver with the two companies.

Vancouver and Nanaimo agreements with the firms have been identical until recently for the past eight years, according to union officials.

Similar dispute arose in Victoria last January when Local 267 of the union, representing employees of Canadian, McOvin and Weston Bakeries Ltd asked increases of $3 a week for male employees and $2 for female, to bring local rates in line with those in Vancouver.

After a Government-supervised strike vote in which a majority of the 70 workers affected voted in favor of strike action to back their demands, the union finally accepted wage offers of $2 and $1.50 weekly, contained in a majority conciliation report which it had rejected earlier.

Hundreds Watch as Destroyers Set Sail for Pearl Harbor

As the sharp shrilling of a siren pierced the hush on the wharves, hundreds of sailors on the deck of the huge cruiser Ontario came to attention.

Heavy black smoke belched from the funnel, lines were cast off, and the "Big O" was under way.

The scene was repeated three times as the Cayuga, Sioux and Athabaskan warped away from the wharves.

Canada's stand in the war against Communist aggression was now an active reality—words had proved fruitless and Canada had acted on her commitment to the United Nations in the interests of peace.

No person across the length and breadth of Canada realized it as keenly as the hundreds standing on the jetties at the Dockyard.

For they were the wives, children and parents and friends of the men who will take up station at Pearl Harbor ready at any time to move into the shooting war.

GREATEST SATISFACTION
Their greatest satisfaction was a simple statement by Rear Admiral H. O. DeWolf, Flag Officer Pacific Coast:

"The ships are well prepared for their job."

The three destroyers were definitely committed to join United States forces at Pearl Harbor to be in readiness. The Ontario will return to Esquimalt July 13, escorting the destroyers 750 miles to sea, then exercising in Canadian waters.

Despatch of the Ontario to Pearl Harbor could well be Canada's next sporting step behind the United States.

The scene at the docks was in sharp contrast to peacetime sailings. The usual bright and cheerful farewells were missing. An air of gloom seemed to hang over the crowd and farewell embraces were longer than usual.

When the ships pulled out, all eyes followed them. Young children burst into tears and were ignored by serious-faced mothers who searched the decks of the departing ships for one last glimpse of loved ones.

HISTORIC EVENT
It was a historic-making event for Canada's navy. Newsmen, photographers, motion picture camera men and American television operators were on hand to record the event. Planes roared overhead and followed the ships as they steamed in formation past Beacon Hill Park—the last glimpse the sailors will have of their home port for a long time.

Admiral DeWolf held a final briefing for the ships' commanders about two hours before sailing of the Athabaskan, and Cmdr P. Head, Admiral DeWolf, Capt. M. D. G. King, chief of staff; D. Taylor, of the Sioux, attended A. Medland and Major-General O. R. Peckler, V.C. M.P., stood at attention as the ships passed.

Keen Competition Marks Police Revolver Club Tournament

Many policemen made new acquaintances and others renewed old ones at annual tournament. In above picture are left: Capt. Walter Day, Seattle; Constable Nap Bouchard, Victoria; Constable Bob Muir, Victoria; Rudy Jobs, Seattle; and William Henaby, also of Seattle.

Older and younger contestants are seen above chatting in friendly fashion. Sixty years separate them. They are, respectively, Kenneth Herbert F. Walsh, Bremerton, Wash., 76, and Jack Bellis, Jr., 16, of Victoria. Tournament will wind up tonight with prize giving and dinner at Monterey.

Wine Expert Making Tour of Canada To Boost Sale of Australian Product

Australia's fourth largest industry supplied Canada with 271,500 gallons of grape wine last year. This year she expects to triple that figure in her grape by-product to an even greater degree.

Here in Victoria to see what she does was Culin McKay, representative of the Australian Wine Board. He was on the last lap of a Canada-wide tour to promote his country's product.

"There are 60,000 acres of vineyards employing 300,000 people in Australia. The country is producing 34,000,000 gallons each year," he said.

TRADE BALANCE

Anxious to reach a favorable trade balance with Canada, Australia is increasing its exports of aging grape juice and hopes to even up the present $7,500,000 trade balance in this country's favor.

Although Australia exports wines and brandies to 30 countries, England and Canada are taking 70 per cent of the total sale.

At his Empress Hotel suite, Mr. McKay told how he got into the wine business, but pointed out before he started that his first trip at water-skiing in Vancouver had left him in a rather rugged state.

NERVE-SHATTERING

Shaking his head, he admitted that he liked the water sport but found it rather nerve-shattering.

He graduated from Roseworthy Agricultural College in South Australia after studying oenology and viticulture—the study of wine-making and vine growing. From there Mr. McKay, who calls Adelaide home, was engaged in the technical application of his studies as manager of a winery and distillery in New South Wales for 15 years. His home town supplies 70 per cent of Australia's total wine production.

He was appointed as the wine industry's overseas representative in London 18 months ago and has visited this country in his first.

PROMOTION

While at the International Trade Fair in Toronto, he conducted what is probably one of the more unique methods of putting a product across.

More than 80 guests tasted 80 different types of his country's product and in the process, used up more than 500 glasses. In the 800 glasses were all manner of fine liquid Australian grapes.

He plans to do the same thing here today in his capacity as spokesman for the Australian wine industry.

Mr. McKay considers that Canadians are not, as yet, wine conscious, but have a genuine interest in the various types of wines and their proper place in the menu.

"SUNSHINE"

Using the motto "a meal without wine is like a day without sunshine," his trip here is to promote the sunnier side of life at meal-times.

Canadians, he considers, are very much like his own people.

Australian State Action Sought to Keep Aorangi Running

Canard Bust Marks 110th Anniversary

Bernard Kennan, betboy on the Cunard Line ship Aorangi, holds life size bust of Samuel Cunard, Canadian founder of the Cunard Line, on its arrival at Montreal recently to mark 110th anniversary of Cunard Line's first voyage from England to Canada. First trip to make trip was the Aorangi, which left Liverpool on July 4, 1840. Today the Cunard fleet is led by Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary, largest ocean vessels in the world.

GOLF FOR EVERYBODY

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, Aug. 1—A golf summer school open to the public is being held here. Five days sports in Scotland.

By RON BAIRD

Intervention by the Australian Government to prevent suspension of the one remaining regular passenger steamship service between Australia and North America is being urged by The Melbourne Sun in Australia.

Owners of the famed 12,500-ton RMS Aorangi ship on the Sydney-Vancouver route announced Monday that the service will be discontinued after completion of the south-bound voyage on January 29, 1951.

High operating costs and substantial losses were given as the reason for dropping the service.

NEW ZEALAND ACTS

Prime Minister Sidney Holland of New Zealand said that his Government had offered to contribute $31,000 annually to keep the ship running but "unfortunately" the Canadian and Australian Governments were not disposed to contribute.

Capit. O. J. Williams, manager of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service of the C.P.R., said here yesterday that discontinuance of the Aorangi run would not pose any great travel difficulties.

He said that he was not yet thoroughly familiar with the contemplated plan to drop the service. The Aorangi is owned by the Canadian-Australian Line Ltd., a subsidiary of the C.P.R.

ALASKA-BOUND

The Princess Kathleen leaves Vancouver today for her fourth cruise to Alaska.

All available space has been taken by the 300-passenger Aorangi.

The 2,000-mile cruise to the North will take nine days.

AMERICANS WINNERS

American entries sailed off with 14 of the 20 first-place ribbons at Vancouver at the end of the five-day Pacific Coast yacht racing championships.

Many of the winners still don't know whether they won or not. The awards committee went into a six-hour huddle after several protests and misplaced awards turned up in the judging of the 1,600 entries. They were still confused after their long debate.

Biggest headache came when red-faced officials announced they didn't know who had won the large boat division. Despite the mix-up, there were 14 first-place awards given to the large, 500-entry American contingent. Canada copped four.

SHIP MOVEMENTS

The Lake Winnipeg leaves Ogden Point Friday, her holds loaded with lumber for the United Kingdom. Arriving last night was the Elias Q. Kuikundis, here to take on lumber for the United States Atlantic seaboard.

The Department of Transport ship Estevan is now being loaded with supplies here for her forthcoming trip up the coast.

her annual supply voyage to coast points the Estevan is expected to leave Victoria about Tuesday and to be gone two weeks. The ship will call in at radio stations Pachena and Estevan in addition to other stops. Capt. Harry Ormiston will be in charge.

DIRECT SERVICE

C.P.A. president Grant McConachie told members of the Whitehorse Board of Trade at the beginning of this week that Canadian Pacific Airlines will inaugurate a direct four-hour air service between Whitehorse and Vancouver within a few months.

MARKETS BETTER

The Fisheries Department has reported that market prospects this year are "encouraging" for most of Canada's fisheries products.

Expected to be stronger are North American markets. They accounted for 80 per cent of the marketed value of Canadian fish last year.

Canadians themselves are expected to eat more fish as a result of high consumer purchasing power and because fish now is cheaper than other protein products.

Despite increased competition from other countries, Canada's fishery products are in a "relatively favorable" position in the United States with the market there taking large quantities of fresh and frozen fillets of cod and haddock, whitefish and lake trout, scallops and lobsters.

Sales to the United Kingdom this year probably will consist only of the estimated $5,000,000 contract for canned salmon and token shipment of canned lobster.

GUNNERY PRACTICE

Department of Transport Agent T. E. Morrison warns mariners that heavy anti-aircraft gunnery practice will be held from Albert Head from July 6-11, inclusive, between 10 a.m. and 12 noon and from 1:20 to 4:30 p.m.

Practice will be conducted seaward in an area between Great Race Rocks and Butcher's Ledge. Danger area will be about 22,000 yards.

Mariners are also advised that light anti-aircraft gunnery practice will be carried out from Albert Head on July 13 and 14 and on July 18 and 19, between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 12 noon and 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Practice will be held seaward in an area between Great Race Rock and Trial Island with a danger radius of about 12,000 yards.

FRANCONIA DOCKS

The Cunard steamer Franconia docks at Quebec City today with 810 passengers.

Among those arriving are Rt. Rev. I. S. Watkins, Lord Bishop of

Squire Wins Gyro Contest

James Squire, Harlow Drive, was the top winner in the Victoria Gyro Club sponsored gyro contest at Central Junior High School last night.

He is richer by $15 but it was not a humiliation. The ball hit the pin at the hole and bounced about three inches away.

H. W. Young, proprietor of Cedar Hill Golf Links, was second and third prizes with balls rolling to within eight and 11 inches of the cup. He won $15.

Malmesbury, and Arthur Cross, chairman of the board of the Dominion Steel Corporation of Canada.

The Department of Transport has issued the following notices to mariners concerning navigation aids and other information for waters in this area:

1. The back range light at Ray Point, Chatham Island, is reported not burning.

2. A temporary marker pile will be placed 40 feet west of the breakwater in Alberni Harbor while dredging is being done there. The marker will be painted white and will display a white light at night.

Figure 1 is a line graph showing the time course of the effect of 100 mg/kg of diazepam on the plasma concentration of diazepam in rats. The y-axis is labeled 'Plasma concentration (mg/ml)' and ranges from 0 to 1.0. The x-axis is labeled 'Time (h)' and ranges from 0 to 12. There are two data series: a solid line with open circles representing the control group and a dashed line with open circles representing the diazepam-treated group. The control group shows a steady decline from approximately 0.8 mg/ml at 0h to 0.2 mg/ml at 12h. The diazepam-treated group shows a much higher concentration, starting at approximately 0.8 mg/ml at 0h, peaking at approximately 0.9 mg/ml at 2h, and then declining to approximately 0.4 mg/ml at 12h. The difference between the two groups is most pronounced between 2 and 6 hours.

Mayor J. Jordan agreed with the statement. He did not blame the men for wanting steady work.

Such talk like that which has been going around since the workers' strike, he stated.

TWO SUCCESSES

Several years ago, the graduating class of P.S. 64, Brooklyn, put on a play in which Ethel Wolf gave such a fine performance, she was named "the girl most likely to succeed as an actress." In the same play, a girl named Shirley Schmitt played a bit and no one predicted anything for her.
Last week, the alumnae of 64 met—and the girl who received all the attention was Shirley Schmitt—now Shelley Winters of movie fame.
Miss Wolf, now Mrs. Ethel Becker, was asked if she envied Shelley her career.

"No, indeed," she replied. "I'm happy for her—because I have two wonderful children and a wonderful husband. I guess we both got what we wanted."

Backward Children

By DR. J. B. WARREN

It has been found that boys from broken homes and boys a little below par mentally make up most of the offenders in juvenile court. A backward youngster, under ordinary circumstances, usually is misunderstood as he is judged by the standards suitable for the normal child and is punished for the faults which are really due to his backward mentality.

By having classes for backward children where they will have more equal chances in play and schooling, there should be fewer of them appearing in juvenile court.

Traffic Count May Help Choice of Road Route

Victoria motorists have something new to think about when they hesitate between alternate roads. Their choice may help influence the route by which the new Trans-Canada Highway enters the city.

Mon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Public Works, said yesterday that traffic counts are being taken on several roads on the northern approach to the city which are being approached as possible Trans-Canada entrances.

Cars passing over rubber tubing stretched across the road trip counting devices. One counter is on Burnside Road, favored as a route by some.

Forest Fire Total Is 50, Hazard Still Increasing

The battle against 50 forest fires in British Columbia is keeping 324 men busy now and the hazard is mounting in the dry woods. Forest Service officials reported yesterday. There is no relief in sight.

The big fire in the Sayward district—at Salmon River, beyond the north end of the Island Highway—is well under control, but 20 men are still mopping up.

B.C. Invention Adopted Steam Whistle Vanishing From Rails But Diesels Still Carry Its Echo

Nostalgic railroad fans can tone down their sob over the passing of the steam whistle as King Diesel takes the "air-chime." The Pennsylvania Railroad ordered 225.

It has been installed in British Columbia's own railway, the P.C.E., and on the British Columbia Electric Railway Company's interurban lines. The C.P.R. is thinking of trying out a few as an experiment.

C.C.F. Writer Says West Weakens U.N.

The war in poverty-stricken Korea is the result "not merely of Soviet aggression, but of the failure of the major nations to abandon their vested interests and create the conditions of peace," according to C.C.F. writer Dorothy Stevens in the June 28 issue of "C.C.F. News for British Columbia."

"It cannot be emphasized too often that all nations have been guilty of weakening the United Nations—the East by frank obstructionist tactics, the West by free-passing U.N. where it could have been used and by lack of support for social agencies."

Like Fudge?

Fudge has always proved very popular. There is both chocolate and maple, and Bob being smart, keeps his batteries small, but makes them often, in fact, about every day now. Maybe that's his secret.

Touring Y.M.C.A. Party Reports Much Hospitality

The hospitality shown by the people we visited during the trip was overwhelming," Bob Morrison, program director of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. said last night.

Mr. Morrison and a group of more than 30 other Victorians returned over the week-end from a 2,300-mile educational tour of Northwestern United States and Canada.

Many communities which they visited had planned tours and parties for the tourists, but since they had only two weeks to complete the trip they were forced to turn many of the offers down.

In sharp contrast to the warm receptions they received at the United States National Park was the welcome they received at Banff National Park.

The park attendants informed them at the East Gate to the Park that they would not be allowed to tour the Park in their buses. After a lengthy and heated argument they were allowed to go to the superintendent's office at Banff. After considerable difficulty they were allowed to proceed on their tour of the park.

Mr. Morrison is at present writing a letter to Ottawa completing the treatment they received there. The travelers made the trip without mishap, and had only one flat tire. The Vancouver and Portland bus, however, suffered a worse fate. It experienced three breakdowns. During the trip the local members distributed travel folders, provided by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, to their American neighbors. They camped out during the whole trip, except at Banff.

They experienced the worst and the best roads in British Columbia. The worst road was between Banff and Revelstoke, and the finest was the Hope-Princeton Highway, they said.
